NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—How American women Y. M. C. A. workers changed unattractive recreation areas established by the military authorities for American soldiers on leave into popular playgrounds was told today by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who recently returned from France after 17 months' service there in charge of the women of the "leave areas." Mrs. Roosevelt was the first woman to ensist with the Y. M. C. A. for oversas duty. She went over in June, 1917, and took charge of the first canten established in Paris.

"When the authorities decided for several reasons, the principal one being that the soldiers must take their leave in certain restricted areas, the men evinced the greatest Indignation and disgust," Mrs. Roosevelt declared. "They christened the first of the areas, which was Aix-les-Bains, 'Aches and Pains,' and were surly even when they left the train there.

"We went ahead and took entire charge of the piace. We hired the casino and installed a canteen where the bar had been, leaving the brass rail and the marble counters there for old times' sakes. The baccarat room was turned into a place for religious gatherings, and other rooms were fixed up as theaters and libraries.

"We arranged excursions and picnics across the lake and into the mountains, bleycle rides, hikes and fishing trips for the daytime and shows, movies, concerts and 'stunts' for the evenings.

"These first troops came direct from the front line trenches, where they had ies, concerts and 'stunts' for the evenings.

"These first troops came direct from the front line trenches, where they had been fighting only the night before and they were caked with mud. They looked casually about the town upon their arrival, but when they saw what had been arranged for them they hurled away to get cleaned up, refusing to enter the buildings as they were dressed.

"Within a day every man had entered into the spirit of the place and they were playing like youngsters.

"In all their playing, in all of which women took part, the men exerted the greatest care for them, and no matter how rough a game was I have never seen a woman jostled in it.

"Every woman in the organization did everything necessary to make the work go. We all scrubbed and monped and cooked, though it was our policy to try to have French help for this. I think the best example of what the "Y" girls have done is shown in an incident that occurred in Paris. A soldier stopped one of the girls with the remark: I have vowed to speak to everyone I passed wearing that uniform. You'll understand when I tell you that I went into a "Y expecting to have a dull leave, and I passed not only the best week I have had in France, but the best week of my life-time." Within a day every man had entered
